are packaged where they grow on the Stassen Farms in Holland and are shipped direct to Roslyn Heights, N. Y.

To get the best effects, we suggest that you plant your bulbs in groups, using only one variety or color in each group. The many collections offered in this catalog are planned with this in mind. Instead of making a separate hole for each bulb and stringing the bulbs out single file, try it this way: Dig a hole large enough to accommodate the number of bulbs in the group (25, 10 or fewer), as illustrated at the left. Space the bulbs in it and replace the soil.

Various kinds of bulbs may be combined in many fascinating ways. For instance, golden Daffodils and early Tulips, Hyacinths with early Tulips, Scilla campanulata with May-flowering Tulips—all make beautiful garden pictures. Pansies, as the illustration shows, and other early spring flowers may be used as an attractive ground cover or border for May-flowering Tulips. Experimenting with different color combinations is a great joy to the gardener and allows many original ideas to be developed.

LONG-STEMMED DARWIN VARIETIES

Against a dark hedge Darwins make an unforgettable picture; use them too in clumps in the perennial or shrub border and in beds by themselves. Borders of pansies and forget-me-nots set them off to perfection. Height 28 to 32 inches.

Darwins are usually the mainstay of a Tulip planting. Darwin Tulips are large and cupped, with very long, heavy stems that make them perfect for cutting. They bloom in May and last for several weeks.

The Famous RED EMPEROR

This is the very largest Tulip ever cultivated. The tremendous flower is carried on a strong stem, holding it firm and erect. The color is just about the most brilliant scarlet one can imagine, and of such an intensity that the effect is almost blinding. When half opened the flower shows a deep black base with a yellow edge. It blooms with the early Daffodils and grows 18 inches tall.

A group of these famous Tulips in a border or in the rock garden will contrast brilliantly against a green background.

Bulbs... for Indoor Winter Flowering

The bulbs offered on this page are easily grown for winter blooming in the greenhouse, the conservatory, or in any room where temperature and moisture can be controlled to suit the plants.

PAPER-WHITE NARCISSUS

The popular flower for growing in the house during the winter and early spring, either in soil or in pebbles and water. The flowers are pure white, deliciously sweet-scented and bloom very freely. To have a continuous display, make successive plantings two or three weeks apart.

12 for $1.20 25 for $2.30 100 for $8.75

IRIS RETICULATA

(Sweet-Scented Iris)

This miniature Iris produces velvety flowers of a deep purple color with a vivid golden spot. They grow to a height of 6 to 8 inches. They may be forced into bloom in the house with the greatest ease and can be had in bloom about Christmas-time.

Plant 6 bulbs in a 4 or 5-inch pot. You will enjoy the results more than we can tell you.

12 for $1.20 25 for $2.30 100 for $8.75

CROCUS VERNUS, VANGUARD

This new variety of Crocus is characterized by the ease with which it can be forced for blooming at Christmas-time and in early winter. Plant bulbs in dishes with soil or pebbles or set the bulbs in dishes with only water.

This variety is very free-flowering, producing five or more flowers from a bulb. The color is soft grayish blue with lavender cast.

Daffodils are not only splendid to plant at the edge of shrubs and perennial borders, but they in turn may very well have lower-growing bulbs growing at their feet. Here we suggest some excellent combinations. The idea is to plant a picture—a composition that will be harmonious and complete and not just a collection of different varieties.

GOLDEN TRUMPET DAFFODILS

One of the loveliest of spring pictures is a group planting of Golden Trumpet Daffodils in woodland, on banks of a stream, or tucked between shrubs and evergreens. They naturalize exceedingly well and can be left alone for years.

MERTENSIA Virginia (Virginia Bluebells)

A beautiful hardy perennial which grows 1 to 1½ feet high, bearing flower clusters of a soft porcelain-blue shade. Blooms during Daffodil-time in April, continuing while the May-flowering Tulips are in full bloom. A most delightful effect can be obtained by interplanting with Golden Trumpet Daffodils, as illustrated on the right.

NARCISSUS

NATURALIZING

Narcissus are spring's crowning glory. Imagine if you can a place. Naturalized Daffodils will make your garden the center

GENERAL MIXTURE

Is there a sight more welcome than the nodding Daffodils or Narcissus brightening the April landscape? A meadow or field at the edge of the property is a perfect location for a mass of naturalized Daffodils. The diversity in shape and color makes this mixture exceedingly interesting.

25 for $1.35 100 for $5.00 1000 for $47.50

Daffodils are all the more pleasing when spring flowers of entirely different form are planted with them. Not only the big yellow Trumpets but also the short-cupped white varieties may be grown in association with such spring bulbs as Dutch Hyacinths and early Tulips. White Daffodils with early red Tulips, or white or yellow Daffodils with blue Dutch Hyacinths make an arresting picture. Chionodoxa, Scilla and the delightful Grape Hyacinths are additional lower-growing bulbs that contribute to a spring garden composition.

The smaller bulbs in such plantings, as well as the Daffodils, may be left in the ground for several years. Each season will suggest further interesting combinations of varieties and colors to the enterprising gardener, so that he is always alert to the possibilities of his garden no matter how small it may be.

BLUE GRAPE HYACINTHS

They require very little attention and flower abundantly in both sunny and shady locations for a long period. They can be left for years undisturbed, to return each spring with more and larger flowers. Recommended by planting in front of Daffodils for a gorgeous display of blue and gold, as illustrated on the left.

GIANT TRUMPET DAFFODILS

These are the true Daffodils known and loved by everyone.

Among the Giant Trumpet Daffodils, King Alfred is the most popular, and it goes without saying, that it is a first-rate variety, but the later varieties—such as Golden Harvest and Rembrandt—are really finer and better. Buy them too. All of them are suitable for indoor culture and make beautiful cut flowers.

EARLIEST HERALDS OF SPRING

WINTER ACONITES

(Eranthis hyemalis)

As illustrated on this page the buttercup-like flowers arise above a dark green rosette of foliage 3 inches above the ground. They bloom a few weeks before the Crocus. Especially recommended for naturalizing, for small beds, groups and rockeries.

Heralds of Spring

CHIONODOXA. Will produce in early spring an abundance of pretty, star-shaped, lively blue flowers with white hearts, as illustrated above. Do well in sunny and shady positions. Left undisturbed, they will increase rapidly in both number and size.

12 for 35c; 25 for 65c; 100 for $2.25

FRITILLARIA MELEAGRIS (Guinea-Hen Flower). In April and May appear pendent, bell-shaped flowers in curiously checkered shades of yellow, white, purple and brown, on stems 12 inches tall. Mixture of colors.

12 for 45c; 25 for 85c; 100 for $3.00

GRAPE HYACINTHS (Muscari). The Grape Hyacinth is a favorite among our early spring-flowering bulbs. Who is not familiar with these delicate spires of blue that loom up like so many fairy sceptres? You can make the most beautiful edgings and groups with them; they look charming in the rock garden and so pretty beneath trees and shrubs. Grow 6 inches tall and bloom in April and May.

SCILLA CAMPANULATA

(Wood Hyacinth)

What is more beautiful than patches of blue, white and pink on the ground while shrubs and trees show their first fresh green foliage? Wood Hyacinths produce this magnificent effect in the spring garden. Plant them in generous quantities, especially between trees and under large shrubs. They do very well in light shade. Left undisturbed year after year, they return in ever greater numbers.

IXIAS (Corn Lilies). These produce tiny bouquets of numerous little flowers in soft tints on very thin stems. Pretty planted in groups, they are also fine for cutting, keeping in water a long time. Bloom in May and June. Require protection in cold climates.

12 for 55c 25 for $1.00 100 for $3.75

ANEMONE. These popular flowers of French origin have always been in great demand. Every year the number of flower lovers who wish to possess these richly colored flowers increases greatly. For northern states we advocate early spring planting; for the southern section, fall planting.

12 for 60c 25 for $1.10 100 for $4.00

DOUBLE RANUNCULUS. These spider-like bulbs produce large, turban-shaped heads of fully double flowers in a great range of colors. For northern states we advocate early spring planting; for southern states fall planting.

12 for 60c 25 for $1.10 100 for $4.00

HARDY Lilies

Lilies come in such a variety of form and bloom over such a long period in summer that they are invaluable in the hardy border. The handsome flowers combine well with various perennials and their delicious fragrance is unmatched. They need rich garden soil that is well drained; they like a sunny spot but prefer the base of the plant somewhat shaded.

When well established, Lilies increase in beauty each year.
